Unification Report: Stand Asserted On Unified District

By GARRY NIVER

Someone once said that one of the greatest barriers against change is man's pride. There was evidence of this adage last Wednesday at the Westmoor High School library when the San Mateo County Committee on school district organization met with North County school district trustees in the first augmented study meeting on unification.

The committee, whose central aim is to present a plan for a unified school district to the State Board of Education, felt the first needle of opposition from several trustees of the local districts, who feel the proud traditions of their small, well-running school districts are in jeopardy.

The 11-member committee, whose recommendations have been made after two years of study, must present a county-wide plan to the state in compliance with the Master Plan Law passed in 1959 by September, 1963. Their study is broken into four parts — the northern section, the central section, the southern section and the coastal section.

They have alloted three months for the study of the Jefferson High School, and Jefferson, Laguna Salada, Bayshore and Brisbane elementary districts.

This was the first meeting. Two more will follow, plus at least one public hearing where the people of the community may voice their views.

At these meetings, the five school districts involved will be an augmented part of the committee. However, each board will have only one vote, making a total of five, contrasted to the 11 votes of the initial committee.

Chairman J, Paul Bradley of El Granada opened the meeting promptly at 8 p. m. He stated that the intention of the committee study is to jointly arrive at a unification plan which wil be acceptable to the State Board of Education and the people.

Bradley next introduced Dr. Russell Kent, consultant for the committee.

A member of the Jefferson Elementary District Board, Joe Lewkowitz, said he felt "the allocation of only one vote per school district was unfair, giving the committee a 11-5 majority.

Bradley answered his statement saying that "the vote of the county committee is not predetermined and the issue si still open."

Dr. Kent then outlined the path which the augmented meetings would take: (1) develop a set of characteristics to determine the best workable school district, and (2) fit the four elementary districts within the high school framework.

Kent was very adamant in his convictions on unification. "I have researched and have found no professional literature which favors anything other than unified control of all public education," Kent said.

"We must try and subdue any provincial attitudes which might prevail," he added.

"We have made advancements in knowledge during the past 15 years which surmount all of the previous advances of mankind. The problem is now how do we adapt our schools, and what is taught in them, to these staggering changes. We must plan together a more comprehensive and less repititious program of study for the youngster," Kent continued.

"I would challenge anyone to show me where the revolution in curriculum is not taking place," Kent vociferated. "We are no win the midst of the greatest revolution in human learning and understanding to have ever taken place," he added.

Kent then gave the advantages of unification as being: (1) greater possibility for the continuity of program; (2) greater utilization of staff, and (3) simplification of public control.

He stated that when you have double structure in school organization, it is difficult to make a de-

Low Cost Elem. District Also Grows The Fastest

The Jefferson Elementary School District grew faster last year and at the same time was more inexpensively operated per pupil than five of six other local districts, according to District Superintendent Dick Foster.

In a special report to the board from the San Mateo County offices, the board learned that school districts pay the following amounts per year per pupil:

San Bruno $414.92; Ravenswood $443.85; Laguna Salada $352.72; South San Francisco $393; Jefferson Elementary $370.61; Redwood City $417.73; San Mateo $447.18.

Rate of growth, 1961-62: San Bruno 1.87; Ravenswood 1.54; Laguna Salada 6.44; Jefferson Elementary 9.10; South San Francisco 2.82; Redwood City (decrease) 1.34; San Mateo .58.

In other action, the board:

(1) Accepted a low bid of $20,563 from Henry Doelger Company for grading and site improvement for 10,145 square feet of the Franklin D. Roosevelt School site.

(2) Preliminary plans for development of stairs at the southeast corner of Westlake Park were approved, subject to engineering approval.

(3) Approved visits of teachers and administrators from Chaton Union School, Turlock, and the Stanislaus Elementary School district.

(4) Approved a special meeting for 6 o'clock tonight for bid opening regarding the proposed overpass for Lake Merced boulevard for school children from Fernando Rivera School.

38 Gridders Suffer Burns Following So. San Francisco Game

The destructive scythe of tragedy struck two high school football teams in South San Francisco last Friday night, felling at least 38 of the young gridders with first and second degree lime burns.

Many of the players on the El Camino Colts, South City's new high school, and Castlemont of Oakland, their opponents, broke out in blistering burns in the showers following the game, which Castlemont won, 18-0, on South San Francisco's Clifford Field.

Some 30 youths on the El Camino squad, and at least eight players from the Castlemont team, suffered the painful burns.

Ironically, it was the very first varsity football contest in El Camino's history, having competed at the frosh-soph level last year. The youths at El Camino were all sophomores and juniors.

Most seriously afflicted of the gridders was Bruce Castellanos, 322 Holly avenue, South San Francisco, fullback on the El Camino team. He is reported in satisfactory condition at the Peninsula Hospital in Burlingame.

The field, played on in a steady down-pour was apparenaly lined with a caustic lime. Following the contest, the youths went in and took showers. Many started complaining of burning when the warm water hit the lime-exposed areas of the skin.

The incident is currently under investigation by the South SF School District and they are awaiting chemical reports.

"The reason why it happened is still pure conjecture up to this point," said Bill Lovette, administrative assistant in charge of Building and Grounds, under whose jurisdiction the field comes under.

"We have sent out three specimens one from the players' jerserys, one from soil, and one from the solution used—and are awaiting the laboratory analysis," Lovette continued.

"The assumption we have is that it is hydrated lime, which could be caustic. However, it is the same type used for the past seven years to line the field and this lime is from the same batch which was used to line the field of a junior college game six days prior to the El Camino game Friday night. The ground was wet that night also, and we have received no reports of and players getting burnt in that game," said Lovette.

El Camino coach Tom McCormick reported yesterday that he had 30 players suffering from the burns, many of them unable to attend school.

McCormick stated that besides the burns being painful, the protective membranes have been burned, leaving the burns open to infection.

School officials are still investigating the incident but have released no official comment to date.

Volunteers Launch United Crusade Drive

Hundreds of local United Crusade volunteers have already started their annual drive here to help raise one of the largest Crusade goals ever established for the five Bay Area counties; $11,250,000.

Crusade officials say that the success of the drive, which supports nearly 90 per cent of the private health, welfare, youth and social service agencies in the area, is dependent upon each community's volunteers reaching their individual goals.

Here in Daly City and Colma the goals for the Crusade Business and Residential drives break down this way:

Daly City-Colma,
Business $1,646.00
Residential 4,265.00
Total $5,911.00

The Crusade drive is already in full swing in business and industry, and an army of Residential Division volunteers were slated to begin their door-to-door campaign October 5.

"The success of the campaign depends upon each community-each individual," said Webb L. Witmer, campaign chairman. "While our $11,250,000 Bay area goal may seem large, you can see from the figures pertaining to your community that it is attainable.

"And we must attain it," he added. 'Our agencies' budgeted needs are now $15,000,000 and even that does not tell the whole tale, for most of them cannot, even at that level, keep pace with the growing needs of

Westview Clean-up Begins In Pacifica

Constructive steps to clean up and fix up Westview subdivision in Pacifica were launched Monday night by members of the Westview Improvement Club and the Pacifica city council.

City Manager Karl Baldwin said steps will be taken to upgrade the area and "lick some of the local problems."

Emphasis will be placed on a cooperative program of general cleanup, he said.

This will entail enforcement of local ordinances for gathering of debris — continuation of inspection services and enforcement of various codes to help the community in its facelifting projects.

Concentration will be made in the area of parks and recreation. Street planting will be launched to help the community from an esthetic viewpoint.

Baldwin said a park development program will also begin in the Westview School area.

"We will set up recreation programming upon demand for residential areas," he said.

The city has placed a foot patrolman in the area and this has helped out the community, Baldwin said, from a safety standpoint, and in reporting of safety needs.

"Westview is a city that has problems and is taking care of them," Baldwin added.

"This is a subdivision like in many cities that is going to do something about it — is ready to work right with it."

City Plans Rebilling On Water Rates

Because of "misinterpretation" of the city ordinances, Daly City residents in the "old" section of town will be rebilled for their water usage, according to finance director Joseph Arch.

The city billed on the new water rates (a general increase of $1.50 per month) on Sept. 1, the day the ordinance went into effect. But enen though the meters were read Sept. 1, this amounted to billing on the new rate for water used two months previous.

Arch said that residents in the Westlake section of Daly City will be billed an the old rate until Nov. 1 when the new rate will come into effect.

White Cane Sales Friday, Saturday

"When you see a white cane, step up and give your contribution," urges George C. Petropoulos, White Cane chairman.

The Daly City-Colma Lions Club's big project of the year gets underway this weekend — Friday and Saturday — with solicitations to Lions' White Cane Foundation for the visually handicapped.

Forty-eight Lions and 38 Lioness members will combine ranks for a goal of $2,000.

Money is used locally for White Canes for blind persons, seeing eye dogs for the blind, eye transplants, operations and glasses for persons in need.

Window posters, bumper banners and White Cane jars in local businesses will supplement the on the street solicitations by Lions members. Petropoulos, chairman, said 5,000 White Canes would be distributed.

Calling on Lion members, and Lion and Lioness co-chairmen Ray Logan and Mary Wilson to assist, Petropoulos said "Enthusiasm shown is excellent. But we can all fall flat on our face if we don't get behind the wheel and push."

He set a goal at $50 per member.

Three Hurt In Auto Crashes

Three persons were injured in accidents last week in Daly City. All were treated at Junipero Serra Hospital.

Katherine M. Masney, unemployed, of Belvedere-Tiburon apparently suffered a lung collapse while driving on Morningside drive September 25. Her car crashed into a car parked at 142 Morningside.

Jack N. Lopez, post office truck driver, was transferred to Marine Hospital in San Francisco with possible abdominal injuries after his truck flipped over on Alemany boulevard, 325 feet east of Sheffield.

Lopez told officers he tried to close a lid on a tool box in the truck, and lost control of his vehicle. The truck knocked down a small tree.

Janice LaCombe, 24, of 481 San Diego avenue suffered a bump on her head in a collision at Vista Grande and San Diego avenue. Officers said she was a passenger in a car driven by Robert Amaral, 21, of 481 San Diego avenue, Daly City. His car and a car driven by Jack L. Slaviero, 30, collided at the intersection.

Quick, positive braking means locked wheels and locked wheels will slide, warns the National Automobile Club.

Local Principal Leaves On World Trip

Mrs. Ethel Hahn, principal of the Woodrow Wilson Elementary School in Daly City, was given a surprise tea by her staff and the Woodrow Wilson PTA to wish her a safe trip around the world and a speedy return.

A little lady who in years past has given her charges a thousand memories was virtually speechless to find herself the unexpected center of the large gathering of well wishers.

Friends from out of the long ago, friends, teachers and recent acquaintances assembled around small tables. A host of well wishes were read from the backs of gold-trimmed birds assembled on the main table.

Mrs. Hahn expects to leave by plane for ports and places of note around the world on October 3 and return about January 1. She will be missed by everyone, but one and all will be anxious to hear a first hand report of her experience.

Peter Hanson will assume the duties of principal in the meantime.

14 players—all reserve players.

Despite the depletion in ranks, school officials have decided to play their scheduled game with Oakland Tech this Friday afternoon in Oakland.

"We will do the best we can with what we have," said McCormick, a former Los Angeles Ram halfback. "We can't always chose our battleground or our way to compete," philosophized the Camino mentor.

McCormick cited end Allan Schuep, tackle Russell Lee and center George Coulter for their outstanding play last week against Castlemont — all three boys are among those suffering burns.

TEENAGERS MAULED

Eight teenagers beat up two Daly City sophomores from Westmoor High School Sept. 26, leaving one with a concussion and another with possible broken ribs.

Donald Wilson, 15, of 169 Mirada drive, was found lying unconscious on a lawn near Southgate and Lakeshire avenues. He was taken to Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Francisco.

Wilson's companion, Roger Kucich of 193 Del Prado drive, managed to escape and run home after receiving a few blows. He was being treated by a physician for possible fractured ribs.

Kuchich told police he and Wilson were walking home from classes at Westmoor high school when a car drove past them, screeched to a halt, then backed up. Kucich said the eight teenagers, all strangers to both him and Wilson, piled out of the car and attacked.

Unification Report

cision, and that an unhealthy competition exist between the two levels of school control.

'This duo-organization tends to complicate rather than simplify," the consultant added. "Unification can provide organization which facilitates continuity, reduces confusion and provides better organization for the advantages which must be made," Kent replied.

He admitted that he was cognizant that the departure in tradition cannot come without difficulty. "But," he concluded, "I can find no real argument against unification."

Lewkowitz again challenged the committee, this time on the definition of "ideal unification."

William Platt, vice chairman of the committee, answered Lewkowitz by stating that, "the two-year study of the committee showed that a district of 10,000 to 50,000 students was the most conducive towards providing maximum services at a reasonable cost."

Platt also stated that "the number of students enrolled in unified districts across the country is 84 per cent and rising." He said that "in California the percentage is 66 per cent and rising — showing that the trend is unmistakably towards unification."

Platt said one of the criteria used for unifying the five districts was taking the common interests of the students into consideration.

Lewkowitz was quick to assert that "the common interests of Pacifica, Linda Mar, Bayshore City and Brisbane were not the same as Daly City's." The main committee expertly side-stepped the issue by giving the innocuous answer that "the committee found in its studies that the northern area identifies itself with San Francisco, rather than the rest of San Mateo County."

The augmented committee then initiated the only definite action of the night by adopting the five-point criteria the initial committee had drawn up to measure a satisfactory school district.

The five points agreed upon by a unanimous vote were:

(1) A district should be so organized that it can provide a continuous and coordinated program of education for pupils in all public school grades extending from the kindergarten at least through grade 12.

(2) A district should include within its boundaries sufficient pupils so that it can provide practically all education services needed at a reasonable cost to pupils.

(3) The boundaries of a district should be so arranged that few or no pupils need cross district lines to attend schools to which they should logically be assigned

(4) Other things being equal, a district should have sufficient resources so that its residents can provide the educational services and facilities they desire for their children without inequitable tax effort.

(5) Insofar as practicable, residents of a district should have a numbe rof common interests relating not only to their school but to the social, economic and cultural life of the area in which they reside.

The meeting was adjourned, with the next meeting being set for Tuesday night, October 30.

If the committee should pass a unification plan, and it looks as if they will, the plan must then go to the State Board of Education, whose ultimate goal is unification of all schools, for approval.

Following this, a general election must be set for the district which is affected by the unification. If the people defeat the unification plan, it will again be sent back to the committee, at the San Mateo County taxpayers' expense, and reorganized for another presentation to the people. The way the law now stands, the State Legislature may keep sending the issue back to the voters until it gets an affirmative vote.

It's News To Vets

Q—Is the VA issuing hospital insurance policies to widows of World War I veterans?

A — No. This rumor came from several directions. There is no truth in it.

Q—Is it true that veterans may now reinstate lapsed GI insurance by an act of Congress?

A—The measure is still being considered in Congress. The House has passed one version and the Senate another. No compromise version has been worked out by this date (Sept. 5, 1962).

Q—May peacetime veterans now obtain VA hospitalization?

A — Only those peacetime veterans with service-connected disabilities. Those whose service - connected disabilities were compensable have always had this privilege. A new law grants this benefit to those whose service - connected disabilities are non-compensable (less than ten per cent).

The View From ..Behind The Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

The good citizens . . .

The people complain about the neighbor practicing the world's oldest profession. They do not want a prostitute in the neighborhood. Why won't the police do something about it?

Well, the police try. They have been working on the case, but have so far been unable to build something prosecutable. People have rights, even if they are lawbreakers. The policeman must always remember: "If you don't observe all the rules when you catch the lawbreaker, then it doesn't count. The court will free the bad guy and you have to start all over again."

But the several complainants in this case are not concerned about laws of arrest or rules of evidence, or of search and seizure and all those other words. They want their neighbor stopped from her illegal and imoral practices. In their minds they have already convicted her . . . but this is much different from convicting anyone in court (and rightly so).

The complainants are unhappy, and they spread their complaints around a bit—and much heat is generated. Several officers lose a couple of weeks sleep on the case. The woman works at night, and this is when investigation must be made. So the investigation is made, each night following a regular day's work (for the regular work does not cease and one must keep abreast of his assignments).

Finally, one 3:00 A.M., the investigators score. Sergeant Terry and Detective Bastedo (together with an undercover man who shall remain nameless) arrest the woman and charge her with the crime. She is booked and bailed. She declines to make a statement.

The court prosecution is the next thing on the agenda. The complaining neighbors are contacted. They are advised that the prosecution (known as the "people," prosaically) are in need of their testimony. What had they seen or heard? Why had they originally complained?

They are aghast. Appear in court? Why? That is a job for the police. They don't want to appear in court against anyone, especially a neighbor.

The investigating officers wonder. Are these the same people who complained so vehemently? A glance at the notebooks tells that these are the very same citizens. Obviously everyone has not gotten the word —the word about good citizenship.

The individual citizen has the right to complain —and of course many do complain, superlatively and repetitively. But how about the other side of the coin —the part that lists the duties of the good citizen—and cannot this be construed to include witnessing in a criminal prosecution, to put real live people in the mythical and theoretical "People of the State versus . . . " ?

Well, there is always the old subpoena to fall back on. But it turns out that the route of subpoena is unnecessary, for our prostitute pleads guilty.

And so the good citizens can be assured—no vice exists in that neighborhood. They certainly saw to it that those cops took action, finally.

Mr. Speaker . . .

Lieutenant John Walsh recently spoke before a distinguished group. They were the "Mystery Writers of America," and includes Breni James and Jay Fox, and many others, of literary fame. The Lieutenant spoke on "Oddities in Police Work." Interest was expressed in law differences in various parts of the United States.

They were kind enough to refer to this column. They suggested that a question and answer portion be utilized. Fine idea, we think. Now if someone would just ask us a question . . .

The incognitos . . .

Patrolman Tom Donohue was off duty. He was in the process of attending a party honoring the recently appointed Lieutenant Sims. Patrolman Ralph Warren was in charge of arrangements, and he dispatched Tom to a location to obtain some ice cubes for the root beer.

Donohue was late in returning, and Warren commented on his inefficiency. But Donohue had an excuse for his delay, such as it is. While walking back to the festivities, he managed to observe and apprehend two thieves, who were busily loading plywood sheets into their auto at a building construction site.

It took a little while to call the beat patrolman and turn over the young men to his mercies. When Donohue did get back, some of the ice cubes had melted, and Warren was not overjoyed.

Detective Bastedo is driving an unmarked auto. He observes another auto driving along the thoroughfare. A young male pedestrian casually and purposely flicks a lighted cigarette end at the passing auto—and it strikes the windshield. Fortunately, no accident resulted.

Bastedo took direct action. He accosted the individual. His advice was direct and to the point. The conversation was short. There was no report and no arrest. A very chastened young man was allowed to continue his walk. Bastedo drove away.

Something For Everyone

by Samuel Chandler

Everyone loves Thomas Costain. His novels have been the selection of the major book clubs. His histories have been acclaimed at the record of democracy as a philosophy of life.

Yet Thomas Costain did not publish a book until he was fifty-seven years old. Prior to this time he had been editor of a newspaper in Guelph, Ontario; editor of the popular Canadian journel "Maclean's Magazine," Chief Associate Editor of the "Saturday Evening Post," story editor for 20th Century Fox and the advisory editor of Doubleday and Company.

During all this time he encouraged hundreds of young people to write. Meanwhile he spent his spare time with his own stories. Finally in 1942 he published "For my great folly." His best books of historical "fiction came shortly after. "The Black Rose" in 1945; "The Money Man" in 1947; "High Towers" in 1949; "The Conquerors" in 1949; "The Silver Chalice" in 1952.

His series of English Histories started in 1949 with the publication of the "Conquerors." The last of the series "The Last Plantaqenet" appeared this year.

Critics have treated Costain pretty good. Many of them have called his stories better than average; thoroughly entertaining; the result of amature mind; the b st of the popularizers. His histories have been rejected by some professors but heartily recommended by others. The New York Herarld Tribune wrote what many critics and readers believe "Thomas Costain belongs to the school of Michelet in his conviction that history ought to be a resurrection of the flesh, and he is in the great tradition of Scott and Dumas in his ability to make it fascinating."

Along with many readers in Daly City, I have found Costains stories and histories to be rich, finely woven tapestries. His Pagent of England painted pictures of Simon de Montford, Richard I, Edward I, Henry VII and many others that I shall not soon forget.

LAW IN ACTION

PRESUMPTIONS IN THE LAW

In every trial the law puts the "burden of proof" on one side or the other. Until the district attorney, for example, offers evidence that an accused person did a crime, he need not prove his innocence.

The state has the "burden of proof." For the trial to move forward, the district attorney must first make out a case.

Where the burden of proof lies depends on who must prove his case, and what presumptions of the law help him. For example, an accused person is presumed innocent until proved guilty.

Yet a person who is found guilty may take over the burden of proving that he was insane at the time of the offense. He tries to show he didn't have the legal capacity to commit the crime. Since the law presumes all people are sane, unless proved otherwise, the accused has the burden of proof if he pleads insanity.

This burden differs: In a criminal case the state has to show the accused guilty "beyond a reasonable doubt."

But in a civil case, say for damages, the test is "reasonable probability." Did the plaintiff make out his case with the "preponderance of evidence"? As a rule this is not as hard a test to meet as that of "beyond a reasonable doubt."

Some presumptions are "conclusive" and cannot be disputed in court. For example, the law conclusively presumes that a child born of a wife living with her husband who is not impotent is legitimate. No California court will hear evidence to the contrary.

Sometimes the law allows one to make "inferences" from certain facts. In one case a pop bottle exploded as a shopper picked it up. The shopper did nothing to cause the explosion. So the court allowed the jury to infer that the bottlers had not used due care.

In such cases the opposing party has to show that the inference is contrary to fact.

Sometimes two presumptions may conflict in the same case. A second marriage was being attacked as invalid because of a claimed prior marriage. The law presumed a prior marriage continues. It also presumes that a person is innocent of a crime (bigamy). In these cases the presumption of innocence of the crime usually gets preference.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

Next Week Is 'Employ Handicapped Week'

For the eighteenth consecutive year, Sunday, October 7, will inaugurate National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week, according to Mrs. Janet Pence of the California State Vocational Rehabilitation Service, chairman of the local NEPH committee.

In making her announcement, Mrs. Pence said: "Observance of NEPH Week is to bring an awareness to management and labor, to various civic, veteran, public and private organizations of the benefits of employing those with physical handicaps. A physical handicap should not prevent a man from holding a job if he is qualified to fulfill the duties of the job.

"The week is also designed to increasing employer acceptance of handicapped workers. In all walks of life a man should be judged by his ability, not his disability," she added.

Mrs. Pence also noted that President Kennedy has proclaimed the week based on a mandate from Congress. Governor Brown and mayors of most cities in California have endorsed the week, as have other leaders in all walks of life.

PTA Discussion At Garden Village

Parents of fifth and sixth grade students at Garden Village School will have an opportunity to exchange ideas and discuss mutual problems at the first of the new school year's parent discussion groups on October 10 at 1:15 p.m.

Garden Village PTA also announces that the first unit meeting of the term will be held on October 16 with the emphasis upon strengthening parent-teacher-child relationships. This "get-acquainted" meeting will give parents an opportunity to meet their children's teachers as well as other parents and will feature as the focal point of the evening an opportunity for parents to participate in some of the learning situations experienced by their children.

Further plans for the school year include commencement of ice cream sales on October 5 during the lunch hour and a rain garment depository to be initiated on October 8.

Sharp Park PTA To Sponsor Breakfast

The Sharp Park PTA will sponsor a "Get Acquainted Breakfast" in the Community Room of Sharp Park School on Sunday, October 7. Serving time will be from 7 a. m. to 12 o'clock noon. The menu will include pancakes, sausages, fruit juice, milk and coffee.

Tickets may be purchased from Mrs. Robert Casale, the ticket chairman (FL 5-3683), or Mrs. Roy Bishop (FL 5-3112) or any member of the executive board. Tickets will also be available at the door the morning of the breakfast. The price for adults will be $1 and 50 cents for children under 12.

Chairman Dan Martin extends a cordial invitation to come and get acquainted.

Unique Paintings At Westlake Library

FRIENDS OF THE LIBRARY will give an invitational preview of History of Pharmacy painting on Thursday, October 4, at 7:30 p. m. in the Coral room of the Westlake Library on Southgate avenue. "Because of the intense interest in this collection and the fact that we feel we are privileged to present this to our membership," Hospitality chairman is Mrs. James Poor. Honorary host and hostess include Dr. and Mrs. George Riva and Dr. and Mrs. Edward Saslaw, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Minkin. Flower arrangements are courtesy of Charles Bishard and John Rinck. Refreshments, Mr. and Mrs. Robert St. Clair.

A prehistoric caveman, a Roman Centurion, a French explorer and a Persian scientist will make a special visit to San Mateo County on Saturday to highlight a showing at the Westlake Library in Daly City under the auspices of the Northern California Pharmaceutical Association.

These unusual "tourists" will appear just as they did in bygone eras hundreds and thousands of years ago, but will only seem life like. Actually, they will be traveling as figures in a unique series of 40 oil paintings. Guides will explain the pictures in detail.

These amazing true-to-life paintings depict pharmaceutical milestones from "Before the Dawn of History" to "Pharmacy, Today and Tomorrow," and are a tribute by Parke, Davis & Company to the heritage of pharmacy.

The "million-dollar" History of Pharmacy in Pictures exhibit will be shown from October 6 to October 26.

Dramatic Incidents

Nearly one million persons already have seen the paintings, which have been exhibited at the Smithsonian Institute in Washigton, D. C.; national conventions of both the American and Canadian Pharmaceutical Associations, various state and provincial pharmacists' conventions throughout the United States and Canada, and the Detroit Historical Museum. The Smithsonian Institute showing alone attracted more than 350,000 persons.

This showing is the first exhibition of the complete series in this area.

George A. Bender, who presently serves as director of Parke-Davis' institutional advertising, first conceived of this famed series nearly 20 years ago. He envisioned setting on canvas dramatic and significant incidents in the past and present of the pharmaceutical world.

But it wasn't until 1949 that he could begin intensive, exhaustive research on the paintings, and this work continued until the 40th painting finally was approved.

Bender's responsibility is that of project director, including editorial and art research and the writing of all historical material accompanying the oil paintings and their repreductions.

Artist Robert A. Thom of Birmingham, Mich., who has become internationally famous as a result of the series, teamed with Bender in the tedious research necessary to authenticate even the smallest detail of these exceptional oils.

Art Reprints

Many area pharmacists viewing this complete salon showing will recall the colorful art reprints of the paintings which have been made available by Parke-Davis.

Art critics and pharmaceutical authorities have hailed the "History of Pharmacy in Pictures" as the most authentic, extensive and comprehensive series ever undertaken and completed in behalf of their profession.

Outstanding as the oil paintings are — with their depth and feeling blended with an "Old Master's" use of color — they become even more outstanding when one considers the vast, almost insurmountable, amount of research required before a brush touched the canvas.

Bender and Thom, the editor-artist team, estimate they traveled more than a quarter-million miles in their various research missions. Internationally-known experts in all related fields were contacted, wherever they were. For example, the artist spent more than four months in several European countries talking to authorities and doing on-the-spot planning for six of the paintings. And this research is one reason why the explorers, cavemen, soldiers and scientists look so realistic.

"We didn't want the paintings to be mere artist's conceptions of what these historical scenes migh have been. We wanted to be as accurate as humanly possible. That's why three to six months of painstaking research went into each painting," Bender said.

School News

Music Lessons

Students of Abraham Lincoln who are interested in learning to play musical instruments were called for their first lessons on Wednesday Sept. 26th under the tutelage of Mr. Robert Steele, instrumental teacher for the Jefferson Elementary School District. Taking lessons in the flute are Frances Petru and Drew Godderis. In the clarinett instruction class are Karen Wheat, Barbara Anderson, Roalend Candee, Janis O'Connell, Marlyn Pauline, Mark Reeves, Edward Johnston, Derek Smith, David Lemesh, Michael Harford and Sherri Matthews.

The trumpet players are Jeff Tepper, Mark Mayhew, Jeff Moss, Michael Pagani, Stanley Hoffman, Jeff Farrar, John Trimble and Dick Stump. The violin section includes Sharon Hyman, Eddy Pardo, Elaine Aubery, Steven Bernstin, Christine Gusman and Lynn Philippsen.

Two boys are interested in learning to play the trombone —Robert Bush and Brian Myers, while the drum section has brought out six boys—Frank Mendez, Robert Paulin, Steve Wechsler, Donald Hegarty, David Di Fiore and Guy Segal. Two boys have applied for saxophone lessons—Glenn Karonsky and Mike Duden.

Two students, Bill Clark, clarinet, and Mary Volkmann, cello, are attending advanced classes at Thomas Edison.

PTA Conference

The first kindergarten Parent-Teacher group conference for Abraham Lincoln Elementary School, for the fall of 1962, was held on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 2nd, at the home of Mrs. Donald Banks. These annual informal conferences were introduced to the Jefferson Elementary School District by the kindergarten teachers and Dr. Lloyd Andrews, principal in 1960, and have proved successful in encouraging a better understanding of the school curriculum on the part of the parents and a friendlier relationship between parents and teachers.

Present at this meeting were: Mrs. Donald Banks, hostess; Mrs. Kay Bollendonk, teacher; Mrs. William Benton, Mrs. David Burlingame, Mrs. Jack Coppin, Mrs. Benjamin D'Alba, Mrs. Deltorchio, Mrs. Harold Faulkner, Mrs. Howard Garden, Mrs. Jim Green, Mrs. James Greene, Mrs. Frank Grimley, Mrs. Richard Hegarty, Mrs. Richard Napoletano and Mrs. Jacob Pava.

Fire Drills

The kindergarten children of Abraham Lincoln Elementary School have been introduced to the mysteries and importance of fire drills and the part that the local firemen play in the safety of the community. With practice drills, songs and stories about firemen and room decorations of firemen and fire engines, the children have prepared for a trip to the local Fire Station, No. 5, Daly City on Lincoln Avenue. Mr. Jack Winters and Mr. Lyle Church, firemen connected with Station No. 5, are parents of present school children at Abraham Lincoln—which fact makes the visits a personal and rewarding ones.

On Monday, Oct. 1st, Mrs. Miriam Holmberg, teacher of Kindergarten A, visited the Fire Station with her two classes. The following day, Tuesday, Oct. 2nd, kindergarten B, Mrs. Kay Bollendonk, teacher, walked her two classes to the Fire Station, accompanied by Mrs. Raymond Peerman, a class mother. Mrs. Florence Ofenheim and her kindergarten class Room A made their visit on Wednesday, Oct. 3rd.

Dr. Yasinitsky Is Seacliff Speaker

Persons of all church denominations are urged to come see the slides and hear the personel experiences and good news of editor, author, and minister, Dr. Gregory I. Yasinitsky on Wednesday evening, October 3, 7:30 p.m., at the Seacliff Community church, 50 Northridge drive. His talk is titled "Christ in the Shadows of Europe."

Dr. Yasinitsky, presently minister of the Half Moon Bay Community Methodist Church, was born and raised in Siberia where his father worked as a railroad contractor. Giving up his business, his father began to work for the Church, preaching and organizing Protestant groups, which resulted in his being sent to concentration camps, and in his dying in such a camp in 1935.

As a young man in the 1920's, Dr. Yasinitsky went to Harbin, Manchuria, where he met and joined the new Methodist Mission College there. After he graduated and was ordained by Bishop Hiram Boaz, he worked with the Mission until it was closed.

For the following 10 years, Dr. Yasinitsky was editor of the magazine "Sword of Gideon," sending copies to Slavik and Russian people in 22 countries, although he was not able to send them to Russia itself. The magazine was closed when Japan occupied Manchuria, after which he was arrested, questioned, but released

In 1940, with the help of friends, Dr. Yasinitsky came to the United States. He enrolled in the Pacific School of Religion to develop his language and renew his knowledge, and graduated a few years later.

Dr. Yasinitsky has written 10 books, one of which was the bestseller "The Early Church Experience" on the Book of Acts.

Recently he was invited by Dr. Karl Soule, from the Methodist United Nation's Office, to join the 1962 Churchmen's Study Tour of Europe and Russia, as an interpreter, from July 20 to August 31st. Dr. Yasinitsky returned from this tour and feels it was a wonderful experience. He was impressed with the love with which he was met by the Russian people and with the welcome that the group received in Russia.

A nursery will be provided during the program by the program sponsors, the Wesley Methodist Church Woman's Society of Christian Service and the Seacliff Community Church Women's Society for World Service. Refreshments will be served following the program during which time the guests will be able to meet Dr. Yasinitsky. For further information call Mrs. Luanne Morton, Program Chairman, PL 6-3188.

SF State Professor Heads Presby. Group

The formation of a new College—Age Discussion Group at Broadmoor Presbyterian Church in Colma was announced by Rev. Herbert C. Tweedie. Led by Dr. Baird Whitlock of San Francisco State College, the students will meet Sunday evenings at 7:30 at the 87th Street church. The initial get-together is this Sunday evening.

"While the focus of their discussions will be upon socio-theological subjects, there's no doubt that many fields of the humanities and social sciences will be explored," said Rev. Tweedie. "The group is for college students, and, considering the background and qualifications of their new moderator, Dr. Whitlock, I'm sure they'll all take great delight in wanderdering down the by-ways of literature and philosophy, to put personal and college problems and curiosities in proper perspective."

Dr. Whitlock is chairman of the Division of Humanities, Literature, and Language Arts at S. F. State. A native of Highland Park, New Jersey, he received his BA from Rutgers in 1948, following service as an Air Force officer in World War II.

After teaching English at Middlebury College in Vermont, 1949-51, Whitlock in 1953 took his PHD in Scotland, at Edinburgh University. He returned to Vermont to teach English at the University of Vermont, and then to Colby College in Maine as Assistant Professor of Humanities, 1954-1956.

From 1959-61, he was Associate Professor of Humanities at Case Institute of Technology, in Cleveland, where he directed the Men's Glee Club, and held the first Kulas Chair of Music at the Institute. The Case Glee Club made two RCA lp albums, "Case Men Sing," and "The Big Sing," following which Dr. Whitlock and the singers left the country . . . to tour Europe in concert.

San Francisco State College called him to the chairmanship of the HLA division in 1961, where he is also Professor of English, and head of the English Department.

Said Reverend Tweedie, "It took me 20 minutes just to read his resume, and I know that the college-age students will find Baird's moderation of their discussion sessions timely, revealing, and most scholarly. I only wish I were of college age . . ." Mr. Boris Stephen will assist Dr. Whitlock in his work with the college students.

Broadmoor's pastor also announced that this Sunday, October 7, was World-Wide Communion Day in the calendar of the Presbyterian Church, and in most Protestant churches throughout the world.

"The observance of a universal communion service, on the first Sunday in October, was begun in 1936 by the United Presbyterian Church," the Rev. Mr. Tweedie remarked, "and by most other Protestant denominations by 1940. The purpose of a world-wide service is to secure attedance of Christians at the sacramental table, and to demonstrate their oneness in Christ."

There will be two morning services at Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 9:30 and 11 a. m. and a special evening communion service at 7:30 o'clock. Infant care is provided at all services.

If you could take a vacation, and pick any city in the world to which you would like to go, where would it be?

This is the question that some lucky winner is going to have to answer in Westlake Shopping Center's giant Fall Travel Fair.

The event will feature another of Westlake's giant giveaway programs, and this time the first prize will be a trip for the winner to any city in the world which he picks that can be served by Pan American Airways (and they offer service to practically every major city in the world), or if he elects he can take a trip completely around the world. Thus the first prize winner may elect to spend his time in such diversified and romantic cities as Rio, Tokyo, Rome, Saigon, Athens, London, New Delhi . . . even Moscow . . . if he desires. Or he may elect to take the grand tour completely around the globe. The only restrictions to his choice are that the airline may reach the place and that he may be issued a passport to the city of his choice.

The big Travel Fair offer is believed to be the most outstanding and all-encompassing trip ever offered by a shopping center in the United States, Pan American Airways, the world's most experienced airline, has been chosen as the carrier because its lines so completely encompass the earth.

Tickets for the drawing will be given out, commencing Wednesday, October 3rd, and will continue through Friday, November 2nd.

Two trips, also via Pan American Airways, to Hawaii, with hotel accommodations, will be given away as second prize at the drawings, which will be held at 8 p.m. and 9:15 p.m. on the night of Friday, November 2nd. The drawing is limited to adults, and no employees, managers or owners of stores in Westlake Shopping Center are eligible to win. Other all-expense trips to Las Vegas will be given away on the same night. The Hawaiian trips will be given away at the 8 o'clock drawing and the trip around the world, or to any city in the world, will be given away at 9:15.

Drawing tickets will be given from a booth in the Mall on the Westlake Shopping Center. No purchase is necessary, and recipients are asked only to sign the ticket register.

Kids Bring Pets To Class

Boys and girls at Olympia School have been bringing interesting pets to share with their classmates. Many animals are now displayed prominently in the science corners of classrooms as a result of science areas the children are studying.

Watching a bullsnake "feeling the air" with his tongue or the horned toad blending with a piece of driftwood makes learning more meaningful. The children write questions, make charts, write stories and poems and reports about their "discoveries" and learn writing, spelling, reading and other language arts. Measuring a reptile makes the use of a ruler and yardstick and learning inches and fractions of an inch makes arithmetic more interesting.

In Mrs. Hammond's kindergarten, the children are watching for the Monarch caterpillars which have made two crystali to emerge as butterflies. Caterpillars of various kinds have been brought by Stevie Snoland, Bruce Efficimo and Bradford Kenyon.

Miss Elsbree's first grade is taking care of a hamster donated by Patric Horner, a third grader. They also have an aquarium.

Brian King brought a horned toad and a chameleon for the children in Mrs. Snell's first grade. Blue belly lizards were shared by Peggy Gumbinger.

Visiting Miss Cottrell's second grade is Cynthia Picchi's hamster. Debbie Glass has a salamander for the children to observe in Miss Hamblin's second grade. In Mrs. Mattson's third grade room, the children enjoyed a lizard brought by Kathi Desman and a hamster belonging to Jeanne Gumbinger.

The third graders have been studying desert life and the environmental adaptations of plants and animals to this type of land before learning about the southwest Indians. Pat O'Neil in Mrs. Lamp's third grade room made a miniature desert to share with the classroom. Pamela Wendell, Terri Storm and Adrienne Goggiano bought a horned toad cooperatively to bring to school. Neville Wall brought a bullsnake and several lizards.

the winner's circle

By GARRY NIVER

The San Francisco Bay Area enjoyed one of its most lucrative sessions in sports in some time last weekend. Just about everybody showed up a winner during the three-day period.

To make the baseball buffs happy, the Giants stumbled, fell, and staggered into a play-off with the Dodgers.

And the professional football aficiando had his day, also, at least on one side of the Bay, as the San Francisco 49ers grabbed their first league contest, 21-7, over the Minnesota Vikings.

Over in the East Bay, the Oakland Raiders were putting up a valiant, but futile, battle against the San Diego Chargers, succumbing, 42-34. They, plus San Francisco State's 12-9 loss to Cal Poly, were the only disappointments on the weekend sports calendar.

Even Marv Levy's University of California Bears had an easy time of it, downing San Jose State (I think we can exclude them from the immediate area this time).

Youthful Bay Area product Tony Lema grabbed the $30,000 Sahara Golf Open in Las Vegas for the first major victory of the pro circuit this year.

But the biggest roar of approval goes to the Stanford Indians, who upset Michigan State, 16-13. Their win was almost lost in the voluminous copy afforded the Giants.

This is the year Jack Curtice is supposed to produce, or else. Rumors had it that the powerful Stanford alumni were getting a little tired of losing and that Curtice was on his way out.

But the Indians pulled off an upset of major proportions, which any team, even the Giants, if they beat the Yanks in the World Series, will find hard to rival.

The solid Indian victory put ol' Cactus Jack back in good standing and should help to keep him on the Farm's payroll for another year or so.

And down at Terra Nova High School in Pacifica, the Tigers won their first varsity football contest in two years. Although coach Floyd Gonella's job isn't in jeopardy, as is Curtice's, the victory probably meant just as much to him.

Gonella has worked hard and diligently with these boys for three years, with nary a positive result. Then all of a sudden they rise up and make the whole game of coaching worthwhile.

To top off the beautiful weekend, the long-absent sun dipped down from the heavens and flashed his resplendent smile. His presence was a signal for the beach-lovers and water-sports fans to get in at least one more weekend of pleasure before winter moves in.

At Lake Berryessa in Napa County, many Bay Area residents enjoyed water skiing on one of the finest days of the year.

The water was smooth, the sun warm, and the bathing beauties out in force.

It was a "too much" weekend, and if it rains from now until March, we will feel satisfied. We consider ourselves fortunate to be part of life.

Victory Makes Indians Hungry

There is nothing like the sweet taste of victory to whet the gridiron appetite.

Coach Joe McGrath's Jefferson Indians enjoyed one of their most satisfying afternoon picnics in quite some time last Friday when they rolled over the green Oceana High School gridders, 39-12.

This Friday, with the taste of victory still fresh in their mouth, the Indian gridders hike over to Westmoor High School, where they play host to the Mills Vikings from the Mid-Peninsula League.

Kick-off time is 3:15 p.m.

Although the Vikings are winless for 1962, they have been holding their own against some pretty stout foes. Last Saturday, Coach Jim Cox's charges bowed, 19-0, to Serra High School, one of the favorites in the tough Catholic Athletic League.

The defense minded Vikes held the Padres to a 0-0 standoff during the first half, but suffered a short lapse in pass defense during the second half.

The Vikes are led by versatile end Lynn Deedler and all-around halfback Dick South.

Over at the Jefferson camp, coach McGrath is quite optimistic of his chances for an upset. "Although Oceana is a green team, we showed spots of brilliance which could be indicative of the way the boys will play from now on out."

McGrath particularly cited the line play of center Daryl Crist, tackle Al Lonstron and guard Armando Cardena. "These boys played a steady ball game, both on offense and defense," said the Indian mentor.

McGrath was also pleased with the running of Ron Harper and Ed Nathan.

The one bit of bad news which tainted the atmosphere at the otherwise happy Indian camp was the loss of Harper. The speedy halfback injured his wrist Saturday, and is expected to be lost for some time.

In last Friday afternoon's clash, the Indians jumped out to a quick 26-0 halftime lead. Quarterback Larry Ahuna, saving his passing arm for another day, kept the Indians on the ground most of the day, throwing only twice.

Ahuna scored the first two Indian touchdowns in the initial period on quarterback sneaks.

Harper, who has been second string up until this game, displayed devastating speed as he ripped off TD runs of 66 and 65 yards.

Ahuna also scored again in the second quarter, ripping off a 51-yard TD scamper.

Halfback Ed Nathan finished off the Indian scoring with a 56-yard run.

Oceana's first-ever touchdown came near the end of the third quarter when Rod McDonald scooted 11 yards for the score.

Quarterback Ed McCaughey put six more points up on the Sharks' scoreboard when he slipped around right end from 15 yards out on the final play of the game.

Coach Jeff Jones' Sharks draw a bye this week. They make their next appearance against Galileo on October 12.

Rams To Meet Panthers

Coach Pete Matisi's Westmoor Rams, discovering that they can win in the daylight, test their strength under the lights this week.

Green and White gridders pack their gear and move south to Burlingame for a Friday night clash with the Burlingame Panthers at 8 o'clock.

The Ram gridders, recipients of a 7-6 upset loss to Aragon in the first week of play, came back last Friday afternoon to smash Ravenswood, 27-12.

While Westmoor was winning last Friday, the Panthers were bowing stubbornly to unbeaten San Carlos, 13-0.

In last week's victory over Ravenswood, the locals were led offensively by Bruce Hix, Mike DeBernardi and 1961 All-League end Steve Schmuck.

Hix hit five out of 12 tosses for 103 yards and the slender DeBernardi sped 113 yards in 17 carries for an average lug of 6.6 yards. Schmuck gathered in four passes for 86 yards.

DeBernardi drew the first blood in the opening stanza when he pushed over from the five-yard line. The conversion was good and the Rams enjoyed a 7-0 halftime advantage.

Schmuck, a nominee for All-Northern California honors, gathered in a Hix aerial in the third period to give the Rams their second TD.

Ravenswood came back momentarily for one score in the third period when Ronnie Peres lofted a 26-yard scoring toss to Bob Washington, making it 14-6.

Hix scored the third Westmoor touchdown when he went over from the one on a keeper.

However, the Westmoor lads had no ideas of stopping. Halfback Dave Mahoney put the Rams well out of reach when he scooted 11 yards around left end for a score in the final period, the last of the game.

Bulldogs Host Diablo Valley JC Saturday

Dangerous Diablo Valley poses the first threat to College of San Mateo's 1962 championship hopes Saturday afternoon at San Mateo High School. The Vikings cross the Bay for the Golden Gate Conference football opener and series inaugural between the two teams. Kick-off is slated for 2 p. m.

Diablo Valley finished second in the Coast conference last season, tied with Hartnell at 5-2, and had the best overall record of any conference member (7-3).

The Vikings have found the road tough in their two 1962 practice encounters against ex-Big Eight members: Diablo succumbed to powerful Modesto, 21-8, in their opener and then had to settle for a 14-14 tie with Golden Valley conference favorite Santa Rosa.

CSM Coach Doug Scovil scouted the Vikes against Santa Rosa last Saturday night and was impressed by Diablo's size and speed. "Their quarterback, John Dyer, throws well, too," observed Sscovil.

Scovil also noted that Santa Rosa has "the best line I have seen there." After Diablo had taken a 14-7 lead in the second quarter on a 60-yard punt return by safety Jim Hammett, the Bearcats came on to hold the Vikings scoreless the rest of the way.

Diablo Coach Sam DeVito was dissatisfied with his squad's "poor" attack against the Bearcats. "We'll be doing some shifting of personnel this week," he stated. "We'll have to block and tackle better against San Mateo."

DeVito's line cog is '61 All-Coast Conference center Van Boschetti, son of the school's athletic director and end coach, Hugo Boschetti.

Scovil's lineup for Saturday's game has flanker Bill Garehime moving to left end in place of ill Steve Firenzen.

Charlie Haysbert will start at flanker. Willie Holman is expected to be fully recovered from an ankle tendon injury and will start on defense in Firenze's left safety spot.

On the line, Frank Kagarakis of South San Francisco has nudged out veteran Dennis Lord for the defensive right tackle spot.

Warriors Meet Arch-Rival Cap

Coach Ray DeJong's South San Francisco Warriors, who have met the East, and met the North, complete the circuit of poles Friday night when they meet the South.

The blue and white gridders, who took the East but were toppled handily by the North, play host to their once-bitter league rival, Capuchino, in an 8 p.m. practice tussle at Clifford Field.

The Warriors are 1-1 for the season, blasting San Lorenzo, 20-0, in their opener, but losing out to Riordan last week, 27-6.

This will be the first time since 1953 that 'Cap and SSF have met as non-league opponents.

In the nine years following, the Warriors and Mustangs built up a tremendous league rivalry. This year when the Peninsula League split up, the two teams also split, with the Warriors going to the North Peninsula League and the Mustangs going to the Mid-Peninsula League.

Last year the SSF team edged out the 'Tangs, 7-0.

Coach Dave Field's Mustangs, who lost to Carlmont, 39-12, last Saturday night at Sequoia Field, will be looking to avenge last year's loss. The green and gold charges from San Bruno are led by All-Northern California halfback nominee Dan Kreidt. The big 195-pound halfback has both speed and power.

Also leading the 'Tangs are 1961 All-PL halfback Mike Jackson and end Fred Wenger.

Pacing the Warriors into the fray are quarterback Rich Wickersham, fullback Steve Balopolus and linebacker Gary Iacini.

Wickersham, the southpaw passer, could catch Cap off balance with his long passes. Balopolus is a hard-driving up-the-middle runner, while Iacini plays hardnose ball on both offense and defense.

In last Friday night's loss at Kezar Stadium to undefeated Riordan, the Warriors were unable to unleash their heralded passing attack due to capable Riordan defenders and a steady downpour from the weatherman.

The DeJongmen held the Crusaders to a 6-6 tie in the first half. Wickersham slipped over from the 13-yard line for the first score of the game. Riordan came right back with Ron Calavano bucking over from the two-yard line.

In the second half, it was all Riordan, as the Warrior defense had a hard time containing coach Jerry Finnegan's speedy backs.

Swift halfback Sandy Green, who the week before ran all over the Kezar turf against Terra Nova, again was hard to contain as he reeled off a long TD run for the Crusaders.

Fullback Joe Currie and halfback Chuck Garric also scored to put the Crusaders safely in front, 27-6.

Half Moon Bay Drag Races Re-Scheduled

According to Half Moon Bay drag strip directors, there will be no scheduled drag racing at the Half Moon Bay drag strip on Saturday, October 6, due to the annual convention of the Sheriffs Air Posse.

Seven top entries scheduled to appear at Half Moon Bay drag strip on October 6 have re-scheduled and entered the fourth annual Cotati Drag Strip Championships to be held Sunday, October 7, at the popular Cotati drag strip north of Petaluma.

The next event scheduled for Half Moon Bay's drag strip is October 13 when famous racers will again meet for heated competition.

Tigers On 'Cloud Nine'

The communications at Terra Nova High School have been somewhat disrupted this week. As a matter of fact, any "ground level" messages will be ignored completely.

The new forwarding address for missives and messages at the Coastside school is "cloud nine."

Coach Floyd Gonella's Tigers, who joined the varsity prep circuit in 1961 and suffered through 11 agonizing losses, finally hit the right number on the wheel of fortune last Friday afternoon when they upset Terra Linda, 12-7.

What made the initial win even more pleasant was that it was carried off before the dedicated hometown crowd.

Gonella has been working feverishly all week to bring his gridders at least halfway back to earth before they step in against undefeated Aragon this Friday afternoon at 3:15 p.m. on the latter's field.

The Dons, who upset NPL favorite Westmoor, 7-6, in the opener and belted Catholic Athletic League title contender St. Francis, 13-6, last Friday, will be favored.

The Tigers' main hopes will be lying on the arm of quarterback Manuel Pick and the running of backs Fred Mason and Dennis Caruthers.

In last week's contest, the Rams pulled out a great come-from-behind victory.

Trailing 7-6 as the clock moved deep into the fourth quarter, Pick faded back and hit end Bob Pettit with a 35-yard scoring maneuver which cinched the first grid victory in the Tigers' young history.

Earlier in the second period, Mason galloped 41 yards for the Tigers' initial tally.

Terra Linda's lone tally came in the second period when Tom Jayson slid over from the six-yard line. The conversion was good and Terra Linda led 7-6 up until that fateful play in the fourth stanza.

Mrs. Mazzoli Tops Cypress Hills Ladies' Golf

Mrs. Elsie Mazzoli grabbed the first-place honors in Thursday's Cypress Hills Ladies' play as she toured the fairways in a 92-28—net 64.

Mrs. Louise Enberg took second place in the Class A division with a 91-25—66.

In the Class B division, Mrs. Helen Jenkins carded a net 67 for the top honors. Three women, Mrs. Dorothy Majoulet, Mrs. Irma Stauffer and Mrs. Lola Stockton, fired net 69's for a three-way second-place tie.

Mrs. Cecelia Leone topped the Class C division with a net 68, followed by Mrs. Peg Coyne with a 69.

Ram Cagers Divide Games With Lincoln, Serra

Westmoor's 110 and 120 cagers began their '62 season with games with Lincoln High and Serra. Ram 110's defeated Lincoln's 110's 28-22 although the next day they succumbed to Serra 16-14. Ram 20's hoopsters were edged twice, 33-30 by Lincoln, and 38-37 at the hands of Serra.

W.H.S. 110's came from behind to chalk up their first victory of the year over Lincoln. Leading their attack was Roger Foss with eight points. Pressuring him for the honor was Bob Rubin with six. Other scores included Dan McGowan, Craig Castre, J. Corcoran and Greg McCarthay. In the 10's game with Serra, Junior Bob Rubin, took high point honors with eight. He was followed by J. Corcoran, Ken List and Dan McGowan who each had two points.

Attempting to hold off the Lincoln attack were veterans John Putman, Joaquin Andrade, Jim Fair, Tom Parker, and freshman Bob Langsam.

Fighting for Westmoor in the Serra game were again the veterans from the 110 team, who moved up the year to the ranks of Coach Tony Giammona's 120 team. Leading the veterans was Jim Fair who scored 15 points. Last year Fair led the league in points scored.

Former Terra Nova Lads Pace Bulldog Cross Country Team

Friday will find the College of San Mateo harriers competing against San Jose City College in their opening Golden Gate conference cross-country meet. The three-mile race will begin at 4 p.m. on the Hillview Golf Course in San Jose.

Since their upset win over San Francisco State in a practice meet last week, the Bulldogs have been putting in five to 20 miles a day in preparation for the conference season.

Coach Berny Wagner has been pleased with the team's willingness to put in the work necessary for distance running.

"Carlmont's Dave Kamrar, and Mario Torres from Capuchino, have showed great improvement the past week," Wagner emphasized. "And Pacifica's fine twosome from Terra Nova High, Larry Peterson and Clint Miller, have been pushing hard in practice and should improve upon their times also."

TURN FROM PROPER LANE

When driving, always make your turns from the proper lane, advises the National Automobile Club.

Gilmore Cap Tops Card At G. G. Fields

Wagering and attendance figures at Golden Gate Fields continue at a rate that could easily make the current meet at the cross-bay oval one of its most successful.

Attendance at last Saturday's nine-race event totaled 15,414 and the total pool passed the million-dollar mark — exactly $1,078,539 passing through the mutual windows.

Bold Corporal, capably ridden by Peter Moreno, captured Saturday's Oakland Handicap when Beloved, the favorite, was disqualified and placed second. Beloved, with Johnny Longdon in the irons, moved into the lead at the head of the stretch but caused interference while lugging in. Longden drew a five-day suspension for the infraction.

The daily double, winner of the first and winner of the second races, paid a neat $270.40 to the pickers of Classic Look and Capt. Jiffy.

The William G. Gilmore Handicap will feature Saturday's card at one mile for three-year olds and up for a purse of $15,000. Entered are some of the fleetest horses stabled at the track with Crazy Kid likely to be the big favorite.

Following this Saturday's race program are the Richmond Handicap on October 13 for two-year-olds, and the Golden Gate Handicap on October 20 for a $20,000 purse.

Post time for all races, Monday through Saturday, is 1:10 p. m. Daily double windows close five minutes before the start of the first race.

Ram Harriers Display Power

Westmoor's first cross country triangular meet demonstrated that a strong team is in the making, as the Ram harriers tied Aragon in the varsity competition, came second in the jayvee race, and won both the sophomore and freshman events at Aragon on September 26.

Although Dennis Tracy and Bob Beukers snagged first and second positions in the two-mile varsity competition, Aragon tied them for first place with their fourth, fifth and sixth places. Tracy ran the course in 11:01. Two sophomores bolstered the varsity — Beukers, who gained a second with his time of 11:08, and Bill Aguilar, who ran just out of the money, 15th, two seconds behind Ray Pinelli.

Oceana managed to grab the third spot in the varsity race with Skrifriars' time of 11:11. Following the Aragon two of Wood, Gossett and Quintana, was Mark Clark, the only senior on the varsity, number seven spot. Juniors Bob Tuttle and Roy Pinelli completed the varsity "money men squad" with 13th and 14th spots. Pinelli, a top Ram sprinter who is out for cross country as a pre-track conditioner, has learned the art of relaxed running and is a surprise member of the varsity starting five.

In the two mile J. V. event, Adams and Mortensen of Aragon finished first and second, respectively, while Westmoor's Ed Raymond finished third with a 12:04.

Westmoor's Bill Mulerevy led the sophomore team to victory with a 9:59 time on the 1.7 mile course. Fenton Pettit, Ron Giner, Paul Porter and Bob Teuscher finished sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth, respectively, to give the Rams their low score of 31.

The most lop-sided victory of the meet was in the frosh event. Ram John Tuttle held the lead until the final 50 yards of the 1.7 mile course, when Aragon's Skale passed him to win in 9:36. Tuttle's time of 9:36 was faster than the winning sophomore time.

Westmoor men also grabbed fourth (Milo Torres), fifth (Bruce Herald), sixth (Manuel Guillen), and seventh (Bob Arriola) spots.

Coach Kent Herkenrath was enthusiastic about the entire team and its prospects for the season, but he had his most lavish praise for the frosh team.

OUT OF ACTION for an indefinite period is El Camino's quarterback Mark Avelar. The crack signal-caller sustained an injured eye in Camino's 18-0 loss to Castlemont last Friday night.

by warren wynkoop

University of San Francisco's national basketball reputation should skyrocket right up to the top once again, when this current freshman groups join the varsity ranks.

The Dons successfully recruited their finest crop of prep players since Bill Russell, K. C. Jones and Co.

One of the Don freshman even got a letter from the President's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, urging the boy to attend Pierre's alma mater, USF. The young man was Russ Gumina, San Francisco's Player of the Year in basketball at Sacred Heart High.

Joining Gumina are McClymond's All - American prep cager Joe Ellis and 6 foot 10 inch W. C. Fortenberry from New Orleans. Any one of the three players mentioned could wind up a super star.

If my guess is right, Pete Peletta's Hilltoppers could create another monster a decade after USF's 1955-56 era.

Who's the next man up the big-time coaching ladder?

It almost has to be College of San Mateo's Doug Scovil, the former All-City Lowell High end and COP quarterback.

Scovil took Sacred Heart High to their only football championship (1957), then he launched a remarkable junior college record with CSM, a team that had a history of bitter defeats.

Since Scovil came to the Peninsula college he has taken the Bulldogs to three Big Eight Conference championships in four years and he has the longest winning streak in California JC football—12 straight. Scovil's teams have won 19 out of their last 20.

I believe that this qualifies him, more than any other JC coach, for a shot at major college football.

Great Moments In Sports

Rose Bowl Game-1955. Duffy Daugherty's Michigan State Spartans score in the last minutes of the game to defeat UCLA 17-14 at Pasadena. Kaiser kicks winning field goal.

September-1943. Herman Wedemeyer, a freshman out of St. Louis High in Hawaii, makes a sensational debut with the St. Mary's Gaels against Cal. But Bears win 27-12.

No head has toppled among college football coaches on the Pacific Coast in quite some time, which makes me think that we've fallen into gridiron complacency.

Not one coach from here has gone to the guillotine since 1955. And our composite win-loss record doesn't merit complete coaching security over the past seven seasons.

I could just imagine what Ohio State University would do if Woody Hayes stopped winning!

Talking about firings, the last time Stanford let a coach go was in 1951. Coach Marchie Schwartz, prior to the '51 season, was the subject of a national magazine article. The story said that Marchie was the most popular man on campus, despite his all-losing season in '50 (Stanford was 0-10). Right after the article appeared, Schwartz was fired.

Notes: George Saimes, Michigan State's All-American fullback candidates, says that he runs through every play as if it were his last one in his lifetime . . . The Denver Broncos of the American Football League had such a horrible season last year that the club conducted a special ritual at halftime of a recent exhibition game. A bonfire was built and last year's uniforms were burned. The rites must have ignited a new spark in the Broncs. They've been going like a house-a-fire ever since . . .

I see where they call the ice cream vendor at Yuma (Ariz.) high school stadium "the good Yuma man" . . . The only college team in the land that still uses the once famous balanced single-wing attack is Tennessee. The last to drop the formation were UCLA and Iowa State . . .

CENTER DARYL CRIST, 210 pounds, Jefferson's nominee for All League honors, will lead coach Joe McGrath's Indians against Mills High School this Friday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock on the Westmoor Field.

Westmoor High School Elects Fall Semester Officers

Sophomores and freshmen have each elected two girls and two boys to lead them for the fall semester.

Honor roll student Skip Smith was elected, unopposed, to the office of sophomore class president. Smith, who promised to raise class spirit, plans to petition for a November class dance.

He is a member of the boys' Block 'W' and has earned a letter for participation in frosh-shop baseball. The race for the vice-presidency was won by cross-country track man Bob Beukers.

Third time was a charm for Linda "Peanuts" Rhyner. Two times defeated last year, she has become sophomore class secretary. Linda was opposed by Mary Messier.

Former Rampage reporter Joann Richel beat Nancy Danielson for the office of treasurer.

Freshman Mike Vasquez can boast of quite an accomplishment. Not only did he capture the class presidency, but he beat four girls. Student politics are not new to to Mike, who was a home-room senator at Ben Franklin Junior High.

Mike hopes to make his class better so that "freshman" will not be looked down upon, especially by the sophomores." Vice - president Rich Skinner, who hopes to raise class spirit, also raised the male ego by defeating four girls. Skinner is a member of the "10's and 20's" basketball team.

Sue Falconi triumphed over four opponents to become freshman class treasurer. Secretary Janis Bell ran against Linda Taylor.

George Mitchell has been elected junior class president for the fall semester. George spent his freshman year at Westmoor, tranfered to Fresno as a sophomore and returned to W.H.S. the latter part of his sophomore year. Although he is a student in Alvin Wolf's enriched U.S. History class, he still finds time to be a golf caddy.

Active member in C.S.F. and junior class vice president, John Cuniberti says that he will try his best to lead his class toward a victory in the race for the perpetual trophy. Although John hadn't run for an office before, W.H.S. juniors seemed confident of his ability and elected him.

Fall secretary is Jane White, pep girl and business major.

Former freshman secretary, Yvonne Gonzales is filling the position of junior class treasurer. Although her previous experience was in a different field, Yvonne did gain the experience of working with other class officers.

Working together as a team, new officers promise their time and effort toward the improvement of their class and the school. There are four main issues facing classes this year: perpetual trophy, student body unity, funds for the up-coming dances and other activities, and reflected in all of these, class spirit.

Jack Petranker Elected Westmoor Senior Prexy

Budding politicians of Westmoor High School proved their handshaking ability as class officers for the fall semester were elected.

Upperclassmen have gained a combination of talent and popularity with the election of their fall presidents, senior Jack Petranker, and junior George Mitchell.

Serving as president of Chess Club, Creative Writing Club, and C.S.F., as well as being semi-finalist in National Merit Scholarship competition, Jack Petranker will lead his class with the idea that "in order to function as a class, we need total cooperation, and in order for this to occur, we need new ideas and new ways of ensuring class and school spirit."

Working with Jack will be vice-president Carol Cordano, who's talent as a photographer has gone beyond the Rampage. Her pictures may also be found in the pages of WESTLAKE TIMES. Carol will also represent her school in various speech contests throughout the year.

Ideas and activities will be recorded with the pen of Julie Kovitz, and key to senior class treasurer will be held by Sharon Sarubbi.

Formation of ideas for action have already begun with proposition for senior class motto and flower, senior sergeants-at-arms and class dedication of year book to member of Westmoor staff.

Westmoor Hi Students Learn Chinese

Among the various continental echoes of "bonjour," "buenas dias," and "guten morgen" resounding throughout Westmoor High School is an entirely new and different greeting—"Dzau!"

Traditional Chinese "hello" can be heard each day during first period as Timothy Yang, under the auspices of the Carnegie Foundation, attempts to verse his 14 neophytes in the finer points of the Mandarin dialect. Two members of the class travel daily from Jefferson High to take advantage of this special course.

Yang is using the "audio-lingual" approach for this experimental class, by which the students practice hearing and speaking the Oriental tongue before trying to read or write it. No textbook is used; and what little writing is necessary is done in the Yale romanization system, using English letters to convey the Chinese sounds.

If this unique linguistic venture proves successful, the underclassmen in the group can look forward to a full three-year Chinese course.

Castle Lanes Strikes 'N Spares

City Grille and Radiator shoots 3073 in the bailer classic.

The red hot City Grille and Radiator team had 1026-970-1077 for a 3073 series over the strong Lerios Travel Service, who shot 992-1015-930 for a 2937. This is a new league record for both high game and high series. John Bazzanella was high man of the league with 220,225,214 for a series of 659, while his team-mates Walt Yazolino had 658 and Fred Von Husen 638. Lerios had John O'-Hanesian high with 233,207,195 for a 635 plus, Midge McMahan with 611 and Carl Foutch 616.

Ken's Flying "A" with four out of five men on the stick, proved to be too much for the Dichiera Builders as they won all three games. Tony Riddell 629, Bill Riddell 609, and Lou Presley 615 where the Flying "A's" stars, while for the Builders it was Dave Harper with a 621.

Hoffman Plumbers won the first two games from the Castle Kids, but then fell asleep in the third game. Len Meinecke who is now beginning to find the range at Castle, had a 625 series on games of 226-224-175 for the Plumbers. The kids were way off as Larry Laub was high man with a 585 series.

Foremost Dairies took Larraburu French Bread into camp twice as they shot 999-954-1012 for a 2965 series with Larry Halloran 204-204-214 for 622, Ed Nagie 225-200-212 for a 637 and Don Baker 206-214-205 for a 625. Larraburu without the service of Billy Mack, who was sick, had Ken Bailer with a 585 high. The Ken Bailer classic scored very well with 52-200, 15-600, 1-3000 series and 6-1000 games.

The league now stands with three teams tied for first, three teams tied for second and one game behind, and two teams tied for third, three games behind. The league average is 962 per team as of Tuesday night.

John Hallquist shooting in the Monday night Druids had a nice 151, 222, 225 for a 595 series which is great shooting for a 170 average man.

Frances Starelli and Norma Chianani were the winners of the queen's doubles with a 1178 total series. Second place went to Irma Tognoli and Rose Johnson with a 1173. Third went to Rose Stanton and Marge Bick with a 1123 series. The last Wednesday of each month is the day of the queen's doubles at Castle. The G & B Shell team in the Tuesday night mixed five league has only one stranger, Bill Clause. The rest of the team are the Giuste family.

Rec Football Leagues Open

Play begins this Saturday, October 6, in the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th Grade Daly City Recreation Department Football Leagues. The 5th Grade League will open with the PAL Indians meeting the Holy Angels Lions. Coach George Pedroni of the Indians has put together a club that will be hard to beat.

The Holy Angels Lions, always a fighting team, will do the trick if they can contain speedy Teddy Gray and overpower Tim Tomasello and the big Indian line. Tim McInerney's OLPH Hornets will meet George Ambrosio's PAL Bulldogs. Ambrosio, a former OLPH coach, will have his new club ready for the game with his alma mater. The other 5th grade team, the PAL Eagles, will have a bye.

Sixth Grade action will open as the Holy Angels Colts clash with the OLPH Twisters. Jim Pretti will coach the Colts. Tom Dillon, all-around athlete, will be one of the Colt's threats. The Twisters will field a group of battle-hardened veterans from last year's league. Paul Campion's PAL Foresters will meet the PAL Vikings in their opener. The Foresters have such stars as Kenny Wendt, Wayne Walarinta, Tom Orlich and many others.

Seventh Grade play is undecided as yet, as only three teams have entered this year's league. All are outstanding—Omar Grimes' tough PAL Bears sport many of last year's 5th Grade greats. Dick Abbott's BYA Bender Roofing team will be led by Steve Back, Bob Himm and Bob Abbott. Reno Taini's OLPH Rockets will put the services of Jerry McQuaid, Steve Gudelj, Mike Lofrano, Gary Chalmers and Stan Radiotes to good use before the season is over.

Big guns in the 8th Grade league may be the PAL Tigers. Coach Pedroni has a line that may be the scourge of the league. They will open against Ron Krueger's PAL Rams. The Rams have the DeBernardi twins, Ken Smith, Jeff Long and a host of well-known Daly City athletic names. Bob Payne and Gene Nunziati are hoping for big things from their Holy Angels Falcons. Holy Angels looks like they now have an athletic program that will insure your hearing a lot from them in the future. The Falcons open with the OLPH Hilltoppers. Andy Siordia, Mike Parodi and Mike Chelone give their power.

Ed Leveroni's PAL 49ers will be in there trying for the championship. Little John Grey, Larry Black, Keith Stoller, Scott Ghilardicci and John Kirby assure that fact. Their first game will be against the PAL Panthers. The Panthers are coached by former USF great Tiny Sabuco. Val Sabuco, his son, teamed with big Ron La Rosa, should open holes through any team.

Seventh Annual Divoteer Opens At Silverado Club

The seventh annual "Divoteer Open" will be held at the Silverado Golf and Country Club at Napa on Columbus Day, Friday, October 12.

The tourney, orginated by Markovich, Frank Gigili and Judge Blum, will have three flights. Top prizes for low gross and door awards will be given.

Tee-off times are scheduled on a first-come, first-serve basis. Markovich has already received 80 entries from Daly City. Sign-ups may be made with Markovich, PL 5-2262.

St. Clair's Upset SSF Native Sons;

Play-offs in the Daly City Adult Softball League were marked by a big upset last week as St. Clair's Liquors edged out round robin winner, the South San Francisco Native Sons, 2-1.

The game was a tremendous defensive battle with the pitching almost even. Tom Glover of St. Clair's had the edge, however, allowing only four hits to the Native Sans.

Bill Mendoza of the Native Sons gave up five hits to the St. Clair men. The game was broken up in the bottom of the seventh when Paul Rundell walked,. shortstop. Mansfield singled, third baseman Dougherty grounded out, advancing the St. Clair men to second and third. South San Francisco was ahead, 1-0, at this point.

Then Terra Nova's basketball coach, Rich Burt, smashed a double to left field, scoring both base runners.

St. Clair's will now play the winner of the Stumble Inn-Ye Olde Firehouse game scheduled for tonight, October 3, at Westlake Park.

The winner of this game will play the South San Francisco Native Sons for the championship.

CSM To Offer Lip Reading Course

A course in lip reading for individuals of any age who have suffered some loss of hearing will once again be offered as a community service by the Evening College of the College of San Mateo this fall. Classes will be held on Wednesday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Burlingame Recreation center, beginning October 10.

Instructor for the course is Mrs. Janet Kaye Rodgers, a specialist in the field of speach therapy. Educated at Oklahoma university, Oklahoma City university, and San Francisco State college, Mrs. Rodgers has hed a life-long interest in speech activities, having given her first speach recital at the age of six. Her training has combined audiology and phonetics with an under-graduate major in psychology. Counseling, radio announcing, and professional dramatics are other aspects of Mrs. Rodgers' extensive background in the subject.

Lip reading is the art of understanding another person by watching for visual clues to supplement hearing. Cultivating such an art requires the opportunity for practice, which is made both pleasant and profitable in the lipreading course by the use of skits and stories, and with games involving typical sentence situations.

College authorities agree with social workers and teachers of the hard of hearing that both lip reading and a hearing device complement each other in that the hearing aid picks up the sound and lip reading clears the words. As a consequence, an important part of the course will be devoted to the relationship between the two approaches so that present wearers of hearing devices may get the fullest benefit from their aids.

The course will also stress the problems of angle and distance in lip reading, the role of background noise, and the use of television broadcasts in practicing lip reading techniques.

Anyone interested in taking the course may register at the first scheduled classroom meeting. Enrollment for the semester is $2 for students over 21. The course is open to adults and students in high school who have a hearing loss or who have been notified by their physicians that they face a progressive hearing loss in the future. Audiologists, teachers, nurses, and parents who come in contact with persons with substandard hearing are also eligible to attend.

For further information about the course or its content, inquiries should be directed to the Evening College office, DI 2-1421.

Vista Mar School News

The Intra-mural Kickball League began at Vista Mar on Monday, October 1. Teacher-sponsor Mrs. Frances Lanthier organized the schedule. Fourth and fifth grades will participate in the league games with alternate rooms acting as umpires.

Captains for both boys and girls leagues will be elected in each room. Three students will form the Athletic Council in the school and will meet when necessary with the Student Government Council.

Athletic Council chairmen for both boys and girls leagues, respectively, are: Glenn Phillips and Lauren Behlow. Mrs. Lanthier will hold a meeting with the captains from each room, where they will discuss the standards and values of good sportsmanship.

Each captain will receive a copy of the rules of the game as well as a copy of the schedule. Captains will then return to their rooms to present this material to the teams in each room. Names of captains will appear in the Vista Mar School news next week.

Social Science

Activities in the area of the social sciences are well under way at Vista Mar. With Fire Prevention Week early in October, the area of "Safety and Fire Prevention" is supplementing the major units in classrooms. Many groups have planned study tours to the firehouse.

The life cycle of the Monarch Butterfly has been a fascinating learning experience for kindergarten and first grade pupils.

First grades are further becoming aware of the complex life of neighborhood and school and learning to appreciate the value of the necessity for existing rules in the neighborhood and school.

Second grades are becoming aware of the interdependence of community services as they relate to the various "jobs" to be done.

Third and fourth grades are studying simple geographic concepts as they affect living in various areas of the desert and sections of California. Third grades will focus particular attention on the desert and Pueblo Indians, while fourth graders will be directing their attention to early California missions and rancho life.

Fifth graders interest in the explorers is a natural setting for further understanding of geographic concepts and an appreciation of other generalizations as they help the individual student become more keenly aware of opporunities and obligations as a citizen.

All grades within the growth and development of various age groups, will endeavor to develop those habits of study and inquiry which will develop in students generalizations and concepts which should result in sound conclusions and critical analysis essential to good judgment.

top of the hill

By ARTEMUS BIERCE

One good thing we can say about the Daly City weather is that while it is bad it is consistently bad. One may live in a shadowless, cool state for days and really be oblivious to its drabness.

However, let the sun push the clouds apart for just one day and send its warm rays cascading down into the streets, and there is trouble in Daly City.

This is what happened to us last week. For months we were able to accept the dull, gray-lined days as the wish of God. We would put in a good day's work, performing our tasks in high spirits, and head for home when the day was finished.

Every morning a brisk breeze would push the fluffy white fog out of its serene ocean home and bring it down into sunless Daly City, letting its cool fingers touch the sidewalks, mingle with the pedestrians and tangle itself amongst the speeding traffic.

But then last week, low and behold, the stream of nature was rudely interrupted. The transition from Summer to Fall, which usually is quite smooth, erupted into two solid days of sunshine.

The almost extinct ball of fire swept down on unaware Daly City for two days, leaving in its wake a tumult of hacking, wheezing, sniffling and sneezing populace. The shock of sunshine was almost too much for the local natives to take.

And unfortunately, yours truly O' Artemus, was included in the long line of victims.

We fell victim to the common cold, precipitated by the unusual presence of blue skies and sunny weather in Daly City.

We have tried everything to rid ourselves of the suffering and inconvenience of this affliction, but it is to no avail. It seems rather paradoxical that the medical researchers can find a preventive for the little known polio germ, while the common cold germ hops playfully out of their grasp — and into the cough-torn battlefield once known as my lungs.

We have taken histamines, anti-histamines, anti-anti-histamines and anti-anti-anti-histamines until our lungs feel like a polaris submarine in the middle of a pacifist convention.

A certain amount of jealousy must prevail between the germs which have captured our body. The armies of cold germs keep marching out of our skull and down into our chest, and vice-a-versa — just enough to keep us in constant misery.

The old home remedies of brandy and hot lemonade also seem to be failing. The booze has dulled our senses, giving us bloodshot eyes and prodigious headaches, but failed to daunt the armor of our lovely little cold germs. As a matter of fact, they seem to relish in the alcohol — and that's all our system needs is Winston Churchill cold germs.

Anyway, we have tried every type of remedy except for those new sudsless detergents advertised on television, and we are thinking of trying them next unless things take a change for the better.

We can take anything — polio, bubonic plague, mono-trichinosis, scarlet fever, hoof-and-mouth disease and shark-bite phobia — but not the common cold. It has more of a knock-out effect on us than Sonny Liston's left hook did on Floyd Patterson.

So while our sore, red nose and dripping eyes, or maybe it is sore, red eyes and dripping nose, or possibly both, keep us in agony, we have learned one valuable lesson. Whenever the rare Big Daddy Sun pays a visit to Westlake and Daly City, stay indoors and hide.

And today's researchers don't make a brandy-flavored-lemon-colored, germ-killing, head-clearing, chest-relieving, tension-easing, medicated anti-anti-histamine powerful enough to kill the Daly City cold germs.

And if you don't believe us, send us a self-addrsessed envelope with return postage and we will mail you, free of charge, one wet kleenix. And if you still don't believe us, you can go to ahhhhchhooooo.

Diablo Range, Hell's Half Acre and Devil's Playground are all place names in New Mexico, according to the National Automobile Club.

UNIQUE IN THE COUNTRY is the job done by this cash register, at ALEC Membership Shopping Center in Colma, being explained to President Alec Land by Neal McGlashan, ALEC data processing manager. The register does all the usual jobs—and also punches a tape that can be fed directly into an electronic computer to tell ALEC exactly what each customer bought, when, and for how much. ALEC's data system had included this information, but on printed register tape, which then had to be punched, in a separate operation, for running thorugh a computer to obtain this vital sales management information. Now, one step has been completely eliminated, to provide faster information for better management—and resultant better service to ALEC members.

town talk

By JACK WOOD

Live wires—Battalion Chief Frank Specht and members of the Daly City fire department, are cooking up something really hot for Fire Prevention Week.

Last year, they had a live fireman jump up from a cot and put his pants on, grab his gear and extinguisher—just like the real thing.

Now they plan to pull sneak fire drills on elementary school children without notifying the schools. The fire drills—lasting five to six minutes apiece will go on throughout the week beginning Oct. 8 in 12 elementary schools.

"We try to get their attention with live demonstrations," Specht said.

"They remember it."

Periodically the department has been showing pieces of fire apparatus to school children, but they plan to go all out this year by setting fire to a car at Our Lady of Perpetual Help School on Oct. 11.

"We'll either set a fire in it or fill it full of smoke bombs," Specht said.

This demonstration will last about 15 minutes as firemen fire up an old junk car and put the fire out for the benefit of school children.

LOVELY FLUTTER—George Petropoulos, chairman of the Daly City-Colma Lions White Cane Committee, urged his troops to stand their post this week "in a military manner." That is, if they can't stand by for White Cane collections, they should see to it they have a replacement.

This military send-off to a philanthrophic gesture by the local group was accepted jovially as George urged fellow members to accept all donations, and especially those when you hear a "flutter of bills."

TOWN GOSSIP—Ramoma Birke, city hostess, who recently recovered from a two-months illness, is tiffed over a newly formed Newcomer's Club, which she said, formed a new set of by-laws during her absence and "completely changed" the purpose of the club.

On the other hand the new club president, Mrs. Harry Kitsmiller claims Ramona told her she would be sick indefinitely and to go ahead and reorganize the club. Which she did. However, Ramona claims the purpose of the club has been changed. She says the purpose of the Newcomer's Club, for which she held the chairmanship prior to her illness, was to serve as a laison between newcomers in the community and existing service clubs and organizations.

The purpose of the new organizaztion, she says, is primarily to welcome new people into the community.

The tinkle of an old time piano echoed through the columns of the majestic yet crumbling buildings. We stood in the rotunda of the Palace of Fine Arts, all that remains of the Panama Pacific International Exposition of 1915.

The glory that was — that gay and spectacular event was brought to life in a creatively produced television series over KPIX. We premiered the program first in the television studios and then journeyed by bus to have lunch in the ancient, circular Green Room of the Palace.

Titled "The Innocent Fair" the program is the first in a series of twelve monthly programs devoted to the history of the Bay Area. The program on the fair utilized rare original motion picture film never before seen on television. The entire series will be sponsored by Home Mutual Savings, and represents one of the largest purchases on the West Coast.

Again KPIX has come up with a winner—an outstanding locally-produced show that most surely will be honored with national television awards and receive acclaim across the country.

We think the series will be excellent supplementary viewing for school children in history and suggest to KPIX that they develop a study guide along with the series that can be used by the teachers for homework assignments.

From the old to the new—from an historical series that made an event of almost 50 years ago come alive to a look in the future with a firsthand report on telstar.

Speaking before the fall meeting of the San Francisco Chapter of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences was Dr. James W. Fitzwilliam of Bell Laboratories and project manager of Telstar. Also guest speaker was Mr. Joseph Royzzen of Ampex who discussed developments in home television.

Dr. Fitzwilliam talked about the future plans for telstar or the "bird" as he called it. The technical progress being made in this field is simply astonishing, and world-wide television on a continuing basis is coming closer every day with the use of a series of satellites or "telstars." He also explained other processes that are being considered by other companies.

Mr. Royzen told about the improvements being developed for home television sets. Coming closer too, is the day when you'll be able to flash on your wall a movie size television picture.

COMING PROGRAMS: The color and charm of an oldtime country Fair is delightfully portrayed in "Carny," on "Portrait" scheduled for Oct. 3, 6:30 p.m. over KRON-TV.

A new season for the excellent series "Open End" which will be viewed on Fridays at 9:30 p.m. over KQED.

Good news is "Play of the Week" is back on KTVU and will be seen on Sundays at 9 p.m. starting Sept. 30.

Scheduled for Sun. Oct. 7, 12 N is special program on KGO-TV's "Golden Gate Story" titled "Bambino—story of Children's Hospital of East Bay."

1963 DODGE DART... A FRESH NEW COMPACT IN THE LARGE ECONOMY SIZE

INTRODUCING THE 1963 DODGE

Now a complete new line of cars in the low-price field. The 1963 Dodge! People who see it just naturally get carried away. Reasons? 1. The looks: Great! 2. The price: Low! Wouldn't you rather own a Dodge than other low-priced cars? 3. The room: Big! Notice how the roofline sweeps straight back. That means ample headroom for the people in back, not just the ones in front. Seats? Your choice of models with sofa style, buckets or fold-down center arm rest. 4. The upkeep: Low! Dodge is rust-protected. The body unitized. The brakes self-adjusting. A major grease job lasts 32,000 miles, an oil change 4,000. 5. The feel behind the wheel: Like nothing else! Five engines to choose from. Smooth-going torsion-bar ride. Low-friction steering. Chair-high seats. Nylon, leather-grained vinyls. There are several hundred more reasons why you'll be carried away. Your Dodge Dealer has 'em all. See him and drive the beautiful new 1963 Dodge.

INTRODUCING COMPACT '63 DART

At last. A compact that doesn't give anyone the sardine treatment. The 1963 Dodge Dart! Now everybody gets a fair shake on room. Note the roofline. It goes straight back. Result: Even rear-seat hat wearers are treated with deference. And so are those who like some action for a change. Dart's standard Six leaves run-of-the-mill compacts waiting and wheezing. Its optional engine (just a few bucks more) is the same way, only more so. Economical? Like you'd expect a compact to be! That's the whole idea. Dart's too roomy to be a compact, too darned thrifty to be anything else.

Few compacts cost less than Dart. None offers the value. A unitized body, for example, that's rust-protected. 32,000 miles between major grease jobs. Smooth torsion-bar ride. An alternator. A high-speed starter for fast, sure starts. Two series. Nine models, including two pizazzy converts. See your Dodge Dealer.

NEW 5-YEAR/50,000-MILE WARRANTY! Your authorized Dodge Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first; on the engine block, head and internal parts; transmission case and internal parts; torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints (excluding dust covers), rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings—provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Dodge Certified Car Care schedules. Factory approved remanufactured parts may be used for replacement.

She was advisory chairman of the EYC, the youth group of St. Martin's Episcopal Church for two years and is now serving on the board. She also served as Campfire leader for six years and as camp counselor in their summer camp located at Woodside.

She has also found time to devote to adult activities and is chairman of St. Mary's Guild and St. Martin's Laguna Honda Episcopal Churchwomen's group. She also will head the church's Christmas bazaar which is scheduled for November.

Look them over from every quarter. They proudly invite you to. Here are the latest heirs to the Thunderbird tradition, lifted to a new level of perfection. Here, bred into one car, is a unique combination of cars. An exciting road car, sure-handed in its response, light-footed, light-hearted. Yet, even beyond earlier Thunderbirds, a truly luxurious aristocrat. Here are the lines that are shaping the cars to come all over the world, now more trim and sophisticated than ever. ▪ Here are refinements that make Thunderbird personally yours—the rich new look of walnut in your Landau if you wish, the Swing-Away steering wheel (shown at right). Add to these scores of other extra-thoughtful Thunderbird touches. ▪ Here are cars that, for all their originality, have millions of miles of proving already behind them. ▪ And this year, the result is a new standard of Thunderbird excellence. For example, you can now forget major chassis lubrication for 100,000 miles or three years.* ▪ Quality like this does not come overnight. It is patiently achieved over the years. ▪ With all of Thunderbird's magnificence—its meticulous quality—perhaps the most surprising fact of all is this: Thunderbird costs less than any other true luxury car. And year after year, its high resale value protects your investment. ▪ For 1963, you'll not only find the Thunderbird tradition a proud one . . . it's a most practical one as well. Why not discuss it with your Ford Dealer soon?
